Happy days are here again. After one of our most popular launches, the Blacknose collection, inspired by the cutest sheep in the world, was nearly sold out.

But the smiles have returned because our Blacknose styles are back in stock. Now you can get both Sky Woolers and Urban Woolers made with the wool from these rare sheep and featuring their iconic black and white coloring. Just remember to get yours before they're gone for good.

For those that already have their Blacknose sneakers or are fans of our classic colors, check out our Sky Woolers — every style has been restocked for fall.
